Thanks to the JYHS board, museum staff and a multitude of volunteers, Canada Day was an overwhelming success. The 100 Years of Rail Passenger Service float represented us well in the parade, the museum was busy with happy people and the Centennial Park activities were fabulous. The food, music, children’s area and beer garden were first rate and the crowd stayed steady throughout the day, surging again in the hours leading up to the fireworks. New this year was the bake sale and it was a big hit with everyone.
Spring Outing Henry House Flats May 27, 2012

Would it rain or wouldn’t it and it didn’t. It was a beautiful sunshiny day. A few people whispered that it was too hot. Could it ever be too hot after the cool spring we have been having.

Joe Couture gave an historical account about the importance of the area called Henry House Flats between the Athabasca River and Snaring Campground Rd. and bordered on the other two sides by the Underpass and the Snaring backwaters. It doesn’t have any connection that anyone knows of to the Henry House that William Henry of the North West Company built in 1811 as a support depot for David Thompson’s exploration of Athabasca Pass.

It was used by indigenous people for travel, hunting and trading for millennia as evidence by lithic items, sign of fire, broken rock and bone fragments found along the ridge of Snaring pond. Adolphus & William Moberly had homesteads in this area.

Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern railways had construction camps plus each line had a station called Henry House. CNR had a section house there until 1972. A gas line runs parallel to the Snaring Campground Road.

On the east side of the highway, there was the first rodeo grounds, and air field. Remains of the sand pits from the golf course that paratroopers training at the Palisades set up can still be seen. Parks Canada vegetation study fenced areas have been there since 1940’s. Prescribed burns have been done on both sides of the road.

The Air Field has been a popular site for weddings, anniversaries, reunions, Can-U-Canoe Race party, celebration of David Thompson bicentennial. Favorite place to walk your dog and see early prairie crocuses or just to walk. Grade 12 grad party has been held there until 2009. Does anyone know when the first grad party was held there? There are lots of stories in this place as well as golf balls.

Museum members donated baked goods and TAGS supplied the coffee and ice tea. Thank you very much.

As many of you know, Meghan Power left this January to take a job at the Banff Centre. That left a big hole in our operation so Dee Dee Bartlett has picked up two days a week while I handle research requests on Wednesdays. As much as we miss Meghan we were happy to see her get a great position in Banff. Both Dee Dee and I are really enjoying the new work in the archives. One of the many benefits of working in the archives is reading through the files while looking for information for researchers. One of the many files of interest is our very own Jasper-Yellowhead Historical Society (JYHS) fonds. A wealth of information can be found in the minutes from the early days of the JYHS.

In 2005 issue of the Signal we asked for information about some carved wooden panels that had been built to frame a fireplace. The panels had originally come from a house in Jasper but that had been bought by a couple in Saskatoon. The story was that the panels had been carved by “the Mayor of Jasper”. Through a little detective work we discovered that the panels came from a house owned by Peter Hegion where the Provincial Building is today. The panels had been carved by Ralph James who at one time, lived just east of Pocahontas. James was renowned for his burl work and he was responsible for a rustic bridge over Punchbowl Falls, the railings and decorative work at Jasper Park Lodge and many other beautiful projects in town.

It turns out that JYHS Historian, Constance Peterson was worried about those panels 40 years ago. If only someone had found $300 and purchased those panels!

Marilyn in Jasper

Many of you who lived in Jasper during the 1950s have fond memories of meeting Marilyn Monroe during the filming of River Of No Return. The Jasper-Yellowhead Museum & Archives would like to put together an exhibit to commemorate the 60th anniversary of her time in Jasper and we need your help. If you share your stories and photos with us, we will share them with all our museum visitors.

I am looking for personal snapshots of Marilyn and anecdotes or memories of your encounters with her. This story, from Warden Frank Camp's book, Roots in the Rockies gives you an idea of what I am looking for. It tells the story of Warden Bob Jones meeting Marilyn Monroe.

“One of Bob’s prize possessions was a coffee cup that sat on the window sill above the wash basin. During the filming of the River Of No Return, the company was shooting near the [Devona] cabin and Bob invited Marilyn Monroe in for coffee. She accepted, and when drinking the coffee, left a lipstick imprint of her lips on the edge of the cup. Bob placed it on the window sill unwashed and from then on it was look but don’t touch.”

If you have snapshots or memories to share please get in touch with Val Delill our Exhibits Designer and Coordinator. 780-852-3013 or email exhibits@jaspermuseum.org

New in the Gift Shop

In addition to several new books, including the History of Jasper by Meghan Power, we have several exclusive items to offer our customers this summer. Our gift shop manager, Lucie Doucet, worked with Rocky Mountain Roasters to develop our very own brand of coffee that is for sale for $8 only at the museum. Hugh Lecky at Tekarra Photo Lab helped us take Joan Robson's beautiful water colour flowers and turn them into a dozen different cards. More than Mail produced our 2013 calendar featuring Tom Nock photos, and Don Pickle donated souvenir street signs of Sleepy Hollow to sell. So, be sure to drop by and browse in our gift shop.

A Special Thank You

To our volunteers Bert Wade, Arvon Hilworth and Wayne Kennedy who have put in over 200 hours building and operating the model railway for the exhibit this summer. We couldn’t have done it without you!

The Collection

This spring a storage can was donated by Anita Laurie which came from the rail yard here in Jasper. We still have not confirmed its use but we have come across a photograph of a transfer of eastern brook trout from the Jasper National Park fish hatchery to Wood Buffalo Park. It shows Bill Cable with similar cans used to transfer the fish. Each ten gallon can carried two thousand fish.
Thanks to a grant from the Alberta Museums Association and the magic of our webmaster, Erik Visser, we now have a new look on line. The whole website has a new feel and highlights many of our fabulous historic photos. It is now possible to purchase items on line, renew your membership and even donate using PayPal. There are still a few glitches to iron out but we couldn’t be happier with our new look.

If you follow twitter or facebook, you can still find the museum presence there, too.
